

Aviation English Instructor (specialised EFL)

Aeronautical Radio of Thailand (AEROTHAI), a state enterprise under the Ministry of Transport, is the air traffic control provider of Thailand. AEROTHAI is looking for an experienced and qualified EFL teacher to join our small Aviation English curriculum development and teaching team in December 2017. The initial contract will be for 12 months and includes a review after a three-month probation period.

The successful applicant will join a team of five instructors based in Bangkok. The position involves:

- Developing tailored aviation-specific English print-based and online curriculum materials.
- Delivering the team's curriculum materials in short lessons and workshops in Bangkok and at regional airports across Thailand to develop language and ATC-pilot communication skills.

The position requires:

- Commitment to the effective and efficient development and implementation of the Aviation English programme at AEROTHAI through active contribution as a member of a small team.
- An ability to work within a large organisation outside mainstream institutional education settings requiring creative solutions to course scheduling, provision of training where ongoing/intensive training options are limited in the support of professional adults working on tight work schedules.

Selection requirements

Minimum:

- Native English speaker from the UK, Australia, New Zealand or North America
- CELTA (or equivalent) qualified with a minimum of 3 years post-qualification teaching experience
- A Bachelor's degree (or higher) in any field
- Expertise in working with Microsoft Office (Word, Excel, PowerPoint)
- Demonstrated commitment to contemporary approaches to learning and communicative language teaching
- Demonstrated enthusiasm for own professional development in second language learning, assessment, curriculum writing and ESP fields

Preferred:

- Currently residing in Thailand
- Aviation English teaching experience
- At least 3,000 hours or 5 years of classroom-based ELT experience
- Experience in developing ESL curriculum materials to a high standard
- Experience living and working in Asia
- A Master's degree in Applied Linguistics or TESOL
- Experience in developing curriculum for on-line training
- Demonstrated knowledge of the ICAO Language Proficiency Requirements

The successful applicant will receive a competitive local salary and assistance with work permit and visa.

Apply by sending:

- A short cover letter addressing the selection requirements
- A CV including email and telephone contact details of at least two most recent referees able to comment on your suitability for the position
- Scanned of passport photo page
- Scanned of university degree(s)
- Scanned of CELTA certificate (or equivalent)
